

Choosing a chair

Seating requirements at work vary dependent upon tasks and individual uses. To find the right ergonomic chair, you will need to know the various characteristics of the chair and how it may support your needs

Chair Jargon

When reading specification details about our chairs, you will come across the following words and phrases so we've added a little more detail below.

Fixed Back

The seat moves up and down but the angle is fixed.

Permanent Contact Back

The seat moves up and down but the angle can be fixed or set to free float.

Asynchro mechanism

The seat moves up & down. You can raise & lower the back. Backrest angle can be fixed or set to free float. Seat angle can be fixed.

Synchro mechanism

The seat moves up & down. You can raise & lower the back. Backrest angle can be fixed or set to free float 2:1 Ratio. Seat angle can be fixed.

Seat Slide

The seat depth can be increased or decreased independently.

Ratchet Back

The seat height can be raised or lowered independently.

Lock Tilt

The seat moves up & down. The tilt of the chair can be locked or set to free float.

Fixed Back

The seat moves up & down. Backrest & seat angle can be set or free float 2:1 ratio.

Lumbar Support

Backrest provides support for the natural 'S' shape of the spine. Prevents slumping and reduces stress on the spine and pelvis.

Tortion

Tortion control knob can adjust to match body weight.